1. Information about Bajnice/ Travel by bus

Bajnice is a small and peaceful village situated on the Adriatic coast near Split in Croatia. The name Bajnice (bai-nee-sah) is derived from the Croatian word “bajno” which means fabulous and as such, Bajnice just is a fabulous place to pay a visit.

The village of Bajnice is not well known even among the people who live in its near vicinity. So please be attentive when you are on your way.

You can reach Bajnice from Split or Omiš by bus; the number of the Split – Omiš bus line is „60“ (destination: Omiš) and the fee charges 16 Kuna. The bus station, that you will have to get off, is named Bajnice and it is only 20 meters away from our hostel.

Unfortunately there is no place name sign at the entrance to Bajnice, nor is a similar sign stating the name of the bus station. (The last place name sign you will pass on your way to Bajnice is the exit sign of „Podstrana“ – after you have passed that sign, the next village you will reach is the village of Bajnice.) It might also be advisable to simply ask the driver or one of the passengers to give you a hint on where to get off.

Driving time is about 25 minutes from Split to Bajnice, depending on the number of halts at previous stations. For more details on how to find the bus station in Split also see „5. Bus Station in Split/ Travel by plane“.
